SOLDIERS IN POLITICS.

INDEPENDENCE OF GUARDSMEN.

NO MILITARY INTERFERENCE WITH PRIVATE OPINIONS-INSPECTION ORDERS

-PROMOTIONS Election week was dull in the armories. The men of all the regiments and batteries, in common with other citizens, took deep interest in the political contest and did their share of parading, bannerraising and canvassing for votes during the campaign. At the same time politics has never been mixed up with their military duties and no influences except those outside of the armories have been brought to bear to induce any members of the National Guard to vote contrary to their convictions. Of course officers and men have had their preferences and have been free to express them, but it is not be-dieved that there has been any official interference by offers of military rewards or by threats with private opinions of National Guardsmen on politi-

Members of the National Guard who are displeased by the re-election of Governor Hell find consolation in the reflection that Adjutant-General Josiah Porter will doubtless be retained in the position which he has filled with so much credit to himself and so much to the satisfaction of the members of the Guard. General Porter fully understands the wants of the National Guard and his long military experience enables him intelligently to anticipate them.

Colonel Frederick Kopper, of the 71st Regiment, has returned from Vermont where he has spent much time among his native hills during the last season. He is in excellent health and is actively superintending the nstruction of the men of his command in their military duties. He is ably seconded by Lieutenant-Colonel James A. Dennison. The old "American Guard," as the 71st Regiment has long been called is holding its own among the organizations of the National Guard.

Captain Ferdinand P. Earle, of the 2d Battery, is a fine horseman and rides spirited steeds on parade.

The entire battery is well mounted and the men are well instructed in their military duties. Captain Earle has been aided by able lieutenants in bringing his command up to its present high standard. It never was in better shape or had fuller ranks than

Captain James Thorne Harper, of Company I, 7th Regiment, is determined that the high reputation of his command shall not suffer at the coming inspection if he can help it. In orders just issued to his company, he says:

In compliance with regimental orders this company In compliance with regimental orders this company will parade in fatigue uniform, knapsacks and overcoats rolled, and with haversacks and canteens, on Thursday, November 13, for inspection by the Inspector-General. Assembly at 8 p. m. Uniforms must be thoroughly cleaned and repaired and all brass work brightly polished previous to inspection. No excuse will be received for absence. Men detained at home on account of slight illness must take a carriage and be driven to ceived for absence. Men detained at home on account of slight illness must take a carriage and be driven to the armory, in order to insure their presence at muster. The commandant will pay personal attention to their comfort, and will not allow them to be subjected to unnecessary fatigue. This company received the highest figure of merit at last inspection. It cannot afford to retrograde. It must therefore receive 100 per cent at the coming inspection. The commandant calls upon every man to do his duty. The attendance at company fails, during the mouth of October has never before been drills during the month of October has never before been equalist in this company's history. Average attendance: 921-2 enlisted men, 1061-4 enlisted and nonenlisted men. Best previous record for October (1885) : 3.4 enlisted men, 95 enlisted and non-enlisted men. The two officers of the 22d Regiment who were ent from the meeting of the Board of Officers held last Monday evening for the purpose of electing a major in place of George Alfred Miller, promoted, re Second Lieutenant Adolph E. Dick, of Company H, and Second Lieutenant Elisworth R. De Bow, of Company D. Their votes would not have changed the tie between Captains William V. King and John P. Leo if they had been present, as they would have taken opposite sides in the contest. It is regarded as unfortunate that the commanding officer was comelled to adjourn the election after only one ballot had been taken. The two officers who threw their rotes away by casting their votes for Captain Demarest after the latter had positively declined to run could have decided the issue by voting together. It is ex-pected that an arrangement will be arrived at before the evening of November 19, when the next ballot will be taken, by which either Captain King or Captain Leo will be chosen unanimously.

tain Leo will be chosen unanimously.

Company A, 9th Regiment, had the best percentage of members present at the recent inspection of any company in the regiment. There were ninety-six out of 102 in the ranks, and the company presented a fine appearance. Companies F and G also had nearly all their members present.

The annual inspection and muster of the 7th Regiment will take place in the large drill room in the armory next Thursday evening and will be an occasion of great interest to members of the National Guard. It is expected that the regiment will parade with full ranks, but it will be difficult to beat the splendid cord of last year. Inspector-General Schaefer review the command. Sergeant W. H. Selkirk has been appointed first sergeant of Company D, 71st Regiment. A reception will soon be held by this company.

MISTAKEN FOR A BURGLAR.

A YOUNG LOVER'S MIDNIGHT ADVENTURE IN ROCKLAND COUNTY.

One of the most unpleasant and peculiar experiences of his life befell Andrew Allen, of this city, while on a visit to iteckland County Friday night. He is engaged in business in Charlton-st, here and goes up to Rockland County regularly once a week, generally on Friday evening, to see a young lady, the daughter of a well-off farmer in the lower part of the county. Mr. Allen has continued these happy visits for a period covering several weeks, and it has been his custom when leaving the house of the lady at a late hour to seek the home of another friend, living about a mile away, for lodging for the remainder of the night. Well, last evening Mr. Allen came up from the city as usual, and that the evening was an unusually pleasant one for him was apparent from the

In order to reduce the distance between the home of his lady love and that of the friend with whom he his lady love and that of the friend with whom he lodged, he concluded to go across lots, and in that way to cut off about a quarter of a mile. In doing this he was compelled to walk through the back yard of a neighbor, and it was in that place where his unhappy experience occurred. He had scarcely scaled happy experience occurred. He had scarcely scaled to the sca happy experience occurred to the yard when the big family leaves and build a fire to smoke the old fellow out.

"Call off this brute," shouted young Allen, and the farmer replied, "What business have you here? Going to steal some of my chickens, were you? It is lucky for you that the dog didn't eat you up. I guess we will take you in charge until we can summon a constable."

In a few moments the whole matter was understood, and the members of the family insisted on Mr. Allen remaining with them the rest of the night, the finally consented so to do, and was made very welcome. MANY CARPET WEAVERS DISCHARGED. ABOUT 600 WOMEN AND GIRLS LAID OFF AT THE HIGGINS FACTORY-ACTION OF THE LABOR ORGANIZATION. Local Assembly No. 125, composed of carpetworkers, held a meeting yesterday in Wendel's As-sembly Rooms, Forty-fourth st. and Nmth-ave., to take action on the alleged violation of a contract which the local has with the firm of Higgins & Son, carpet manufacturers. At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, 2,000 employes of the Higgins Carpet Works received their pay at the factory, and about 500 of them were dismissed, having received notice to that effect a week or two ago. The reason given for a reduction of the force is the large amount of stock on hand and a dulness of trade.

At the Assembly Rooms about 1,200 men and women met, and were addressed by Joseph R. Buchannan, of the National Executive Committee, Knights of Labor, George F. Murray, and others. John Morrison, Master Workman of L. A. 126, made his report on the affairs of his local. In a conversation with a on the affairs of his local. In a conversation with a Tribune reporter, the Master Workman said, speaking of the Higgins trouble, that that firm had laid off or the Higgins frouble, that that him had laid off one-half its force and was making two men do the work of three, also that there was a reduction of wages in some of the departments. He stated that the local's agreement with the Erm provides that in case any of the firm's employes are laid off, they must be the new and inexperienced hands. The agreement also deals with the question of wages.

A committee of three was appointed to wait upon the managers of the works, and attempt to effect a settlement on a basis more acceptable to the workers.

At least of No. 2,131 Tryon-st., was fatally stabbed early this twelve lives were lost and twenty persons were in-jured. The pecuniary loss will reach $250,000. An alarm was sounded at 7:30, and the Fire Department was soon on the scene. At that time little fire could be seen from the outside. The building could be opproached only on one side, and the firemen had only a narrow alley to work in. The building stood on the edge of the Upper Falls of the Genesce River. These falls are ninety-six feet high. When the firemen arrived the windows on the street side of the structure were filled with men calling for help. There were sixty-five men inside. The firemen answered them, telling them not to jump, and that they would soon be rescued. The men paid no attention to the ercouraging cries, and soon the air was filled with falling human bodies. At least twenty men jumped from the third-story, and all of them wer more or less injured. They were at once taken to hospitals. Four of them died from the effects of their injuries before they could be removed. Their names were John Call, foreman of the works; Joseph Douzer, Joseph Weber and Henry Sayder. There are twenty-one missing men, and it is supposed that all of them are dead and in the ruins.

A report reached "The Union" office at 10 o'clock this morning, that ten more hoddes had been found in the ruins. The names of the missing and wounded were given in last nightly dispatches.

Three more bodies were taken this afternoon from the ruins of the building. They were burned to a crisp, and it was impossible to recognize them. Four of them died from the effects of their

SNOWSTORM IN THE WEST.

Atchison, Kan., Nov. 9.-The most phenomenal snowstorm that ever occurred in Northern Kansas began this morning and has continued furiously all day. MR. THURBER'S BEAR STORY.

HOW A SOCIABLE BRUIN KEPT HIM IN THE CATSKILLS ON ELECTION DAY.

An amusing story was published yesterday afternoon to the effect that II. K. Thurber, while on a visit to his summer cottage at Tannersville, had an exciting encounter with a bear. This village is at the foot of the Catskills, and bears are among its occasional vis itors. When a Tribune reporter called upon Mr. Thurber to learn the full particulars of the adventure, that gentleman said, with a merry twinkle in his eye:
"It was not myself, but my brother, who went on the bear hunting excursion. I was hard at work on the East Side for Harrison and Morton on election day, but I told my brother that I would rather see him go bear hunting than vote for Cleveland, and so he

THE GUARD WHO REFUSED TO OPEN THE GATE ARRESTED-MR. HAIN HAS PREPARED A STATEMENT.

The body of Philip Baer, who was killed on the Second Avenue Elevated Line on Thursday evening, was removed to his home in Harlem on Friday. John H. Grabcau, the guard who refused to open the gate for Mr. Eaer, was arrested yesterday morning. Detective Reap, of the Eldridge Street Police Station, had been looking for the man all of Friday and Friday night, but was hampered in his search by not knowing his name. In the excitement which arose among the passengers in the train at the time of the accident no one thought to take the guard's badge number, which was 772. As soon as Grabeau's name had been learned the detective applied at the Essex Market Police Court for a warrant for his arrest. He then began his search anew. When Grabeau was found he admitted that he was the guard who had refused to open the gate. He submitted quietly to his arrest, and was taken to the Eldridge Street Police Station. He will be arraigned before Justice Gorman this morning. Theodore Newberger, the guard of the gate on the rear car, was also taken to the station. but he was promptly discharged, there being no evidence against him.

Manager Hain said to a reporter yesterday that he had prepared his statement in regard to the case, but

A MISLEADING BANK STATEMENT. Saturday, Nov. 10-p. m.

By the operations of the New-York Sub-Treasury in the week ended last evening, which in-cluded payments of $1,749,345 for purchased bonds and receipts of $660,000 for exchange on Southern and Western Sub-Treasuries, the New-York banks gained $673,322 cash. To-day's bank statement of averages shows a loss of $2,893,800 For the week..... $2,203,100 $432,073 $432,0 statement of averages shows a loss of $2,893,800 at the close of business Friday, November 2, rather than the outgo of money during the last week. Probably the actual cash in hand at the Total since Jan.1. $45,952,377 $15,813,705 $31,187,003 close of business yesterday was something greater THE PETROLEUM MARKET. $2,884,600 in deposits is consistent with the loss in cash and a contraction of $436,800 in loans. The statement results in a loss of $2,172,650 to the surplus reserve, and leaves it at $11,538,600, against $8,587,400 on November 12, 1887, and $7,891,350 on November 13, 1886.

The following assures: the local statement of the bulls, showing a reduction in net stocks last month.

National Transit Company fully equalled the expectational of the bulls, showing a reduction in net stocks ast mental of 1,084,074 barrels, and a cancellation of certificates equivalent to sootsel barrels. The full returns of all the pipe lines ought to show a reduction in net stocks of over 1,100,000 becreis. The statement excited little influence on the speculation, and after the harnest failed to respond to it the trading element indulged in reaswest harmonizing of values. Their success was small, but the market closed dull and without much significance.
